Set Up Your Locations

One account, as many venues as you run.

Add each venue on your Locations page. Search for the address and BRIXXLE pins it on the map, then set that venue's own phone number, opening hours, and time zone — each one is independent, so a second site in another city keeps its own details.

Every event you publish is attached to one of your venues, so guests always know exactly where they're going. Your venues stay on the BRIXXLE map even between events, which earns you visibility on the quiet nights too.

Recurring Nights

Most venues run the same night every week. Build it once.

Set the pattern and BRIXXLE generates the whole run — every Friday for the next three months, each one its own event with its own tickets and its own door. Edit a single night, or edit the entire series.

Cancelling one date leaves the rest untouched.

Ticketing Options

Price each night however it makes sense.

Create as many ticket types as you like, each with its own price and quantity. Running a free night? Switch on Free / RSVP and set a capacity — guests reserve a free ticket you can still scan at the door.

Selling paid tickets? Choose how the small BRIXXLE fee is handled, per night.

Cabanas & Tables

Sell your best real estate in advance.

Lay out your cabanas, booths, or tables once and set a price for each. Guests book and pay at checkout alongside their tickets, and the money reaches you the same way.

A held spot releases itself after three minutes if the guest doesn't finish checkout, so nothing sits blocked by an abandoned cart.

Staff Access

Your door staff need to scan tickets, not run your business.

Add them by email and they get exactly the tools for their job — check-in and the guest list — without ever reaching your payouts, your pricing, or your account settings. Remove access the moment someone leaves.

Scan Tickets

Check guests in with a phone — no extra hardware.

Open Check-In, point the camera at the guest's ticket QR code, and BRIXXLE instantly confirms it's valid and marks it redeemed. Already-used or invalid tickets are flagged on the spot, so the line keeps moving.

Point. Scan. Done.

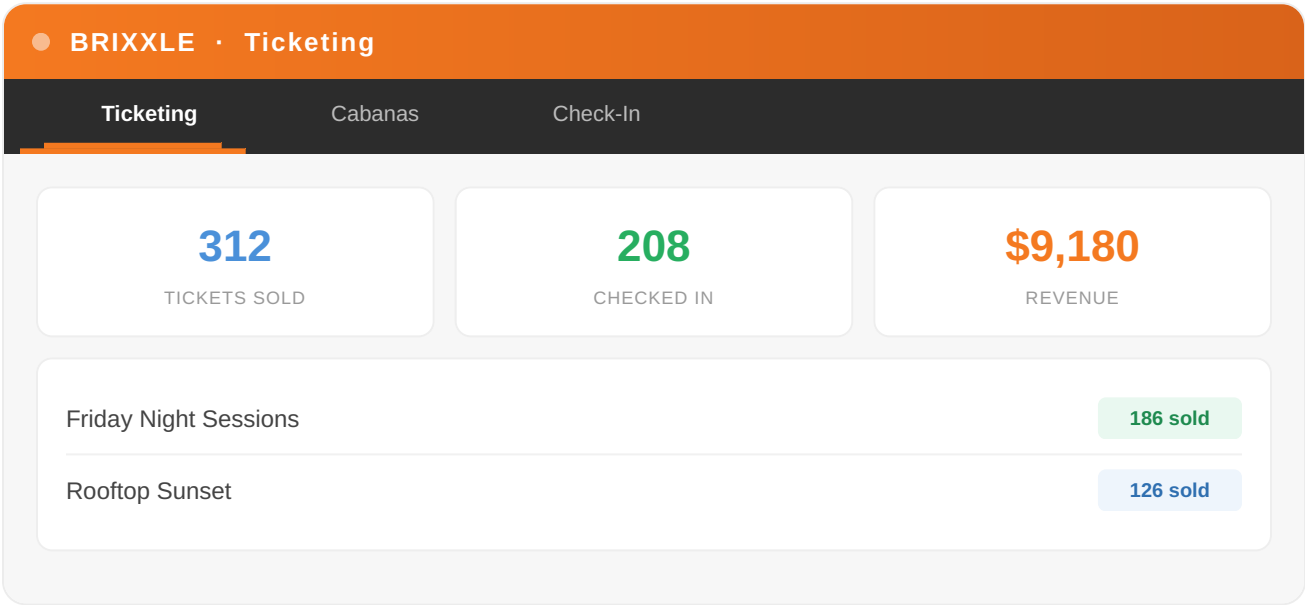

The camera reads the QR on the guest's ticket and validates it against tonight's event in real time.

✓ Ticket valid — checked in

The Ticketing Interface

Your live command centre for the night.

See tickets sold, revenue, and check-ins across every night at a glance — then drill into any one for a tier-by-tier breakdown and individual ticket status. Cabana and service bookings sit alongside, so you know what's been claimed.

CASH OUT

Get Paid

Your money, clearly tracked.

The Payout dashboard shows gross sales, BRIXXLE fees, your net, and your available balance — pulled live so the numbers are always real. Tickets, cabanas, and services all pay out together, straight to your connected bank.
